Where do your donations go?

From your hands to the hearts of our children and families.

Here's the journey your donated clothes take.

01 ARRIVE

Your donated items arrive at Goodwill

Every bag of clothing is welcomed with gratitude.

From the moment it arrives, Mama Graça carefully sorts through each item by hand, checking, folding, and preparing it for its next home.

With her years of experience and loving heart, nothing goes unnoticed, and nothing goes to waste.

02 CLEAN

Cleaned with care

Before anything is handed out, every item is washed and folded with love.

We make sure it's clean, soft, and ready to be worn with pride, because everyone deserves clothing that feels fresh and comforting.

What you give arrives as a donation, but leaves us as a gift.

03 REPAIR

Giving clothes a second life

Some clothes arrive with loose seams or small tears, but they still have so much to give.

We set these aside and carefully repair them by hand.

It's our way of making sure every item is worthy of the person who receives it.

04 PACK

Packed with purpose

Once everything is clean and ready, we carefully sort and pack the clothes.

Some go to the children in our care, others to newborns and mothers, and some to families in the community.

Every item is matched with someone who truly needs it.

05 DELIVER

To the hospital

Our first stop is often the maternity ward.

Many mothers arrive without bare essentials for their newborns.

Thanks to your donations, we can offer them soft baby items, warmth, and a sense of care in their most vulnerable moment.

06 CONNECT

Into the community

After the hospital, we continue into the community, visiting families, neighbours, and children who need support.

We deliver each item directly, making sure it reaches the right hands.

It's more than just a shirt or pair of shoes. It's a message:

"You're not forgotten."

Thank you

Because of you, children are warmer, mothers are comforted, and families feel supported.

Every donation you send is felt deeply here, in smiles, in stories, in small but powerful moments.

Thank you for giving with heart.
